

My Relaxing Day

Last week I spent a whole day in the garden because the weather was so beautiful and hot.

First I read my exciting book. I made myself a refreshing orange and pineapple squash to drink so I could stay hydrated. Next I made lunch. We had cheese and onion toasties with a delicious, crunchy salad. Then I filled up the watering can to water the flowers. Mowgli made me laugh because he was a bit scared of the watering can and kept barking at it. He is so silly!

After, I listened to some music and played a fun card game.

I had such a nice, relaxing day and I really hope it is hot again soon!
