

Fill the jars or glasses about halfway with water and place them by sunlight. Drop different colours of food colouring into each of the glasses. Cut or rip stalks of celery and place them in the cups of coloured water. Check every few hours with your child to see how the colours change!

Capillary Action

science experiment

